

JEREMY PORTER ^{AND} THE TUCOS

Jeremy Porter and the Tucos are an original rock and roll band from Detroit playing classic American style powerpop, rockabilly, roots-rock/Alt-country, and indie/alternative. If you must call it something, call it Detroit Rock and Roll. Their influences include Cheap Trick, Uncle Tupelo, X, Drive-By Truckers, Hüsker Dü, and just about anything else that rocks, swings, two-steps, or staggers.

Since forming in the Detroit suburbs, late 2010, they've toured the US and Canada extensively, and the UK in 2018. They have five full-length albums out and several 7" singles and contributions to comps and collections. They mix Detroit's gritty, blue collar spirit and musical history with sharp songwriting and big-hearted hooks. Energetic, melodic, and unapologetically honest, The Tucos bring an inclusive, engaging live show that leaves no doubt that independent rock and roll still matters.

In 2026, JP&T released Sell Their Souls – their 5th and hardest-rocking album to date. They'll be out for the foreseeable future supporting it on the road.

- Extensive discography of 5 full-length LP/CDs, 6 7" singles, and several contributions to compilations.
- Label affiliations include GTG Records (Lansing, MI), MagWheel Records (Toronto/Montreal), LeestaVall Records (Brooklyn), New Fortune Records (Detroit), I-94 Recordings (Detroit).
- Extensive touring exceeding 35 states, 3 provinces, and 4 countries. The Tucos have played dozens of festivals and supported several major touring artists in Detroit and elsewhere.
- Candy Coated Cannonball (their 4th album, GTG Records 2021) was featured as a top-release of that year in several blogs/articles/radio shows.

"...one of America's best examples of pure talent and hard work." - Jersey Beat

"...the hooks from your favorite Cheap Trick record and the dark humor from a Tom Waits ballad soaked in a puddle of beer next to Paul Westerberg's amp. it's honest, original, and heartfelt music."

– Nashville Gab

" (5 Stars)" - Real Detroit Weekly
